

IRB Seminar

Sponsored by Penn State Continuing Education and
Human Subjects Protection Office

Research Involving Investigational New Drugs and Investigational New Drug Applications (IND)

Presented by:

H. Gregg Schuler, MSc, CCRC
Clinical Research Quality Assurance- Compliance Administrator
Office of the Vice Dean for Research and Graduate Studies

Date/Time/Location:

Wednesday, September 10, 2008, 12:00 - 1:00 p.m., Room #3621

Educational Objectives:

- Know what an IND is
- Know the criteria for IND submissions/exemptions
- Know what information is required for submission
- Know how to get help

The content of the lecture includes 1 hour of patient safety/risk management education as required by the Pennsylvania State Board of Medicine.

Penn State College of Medicine designates this educational activity for a maximum of 1 *AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)*TM. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Penn State College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Penn State has approved this program for 0.1 Continuing Education Units (CEUs).

IRB Seminars are monthly presentations on topics of interest to research investigators and coordinators. For additional information see the Institutional Review Board (IRB) web site.

<http://www.hmc.psu.edu/irb/education/seminars.htm>

To register call the Human Subjects Protection Office (HSPO) at 531-5687.

Advance registration is helpful for planning, but last minute attendees are welcome.

Please notify the HSPO if you need special accommodations.